

Coveted American Citizenship Awarded Wife Of Y-12 Plant Guard At Naturalization Ceremonies Held In Knoxville Federal Court

Native Canadian Wed During War Years

Mrs. Conrad McPeters, wife of Conrad McPeters, of the Y-12 Guard Department, reached her major ambition last week when she became an official citizen of the United States of America through the naturalization process. Mrs. McPeters obtained her naturalization papers in ceremonies held in Federal Court in Knoxville. She was one of a group of 27 persons who became American citizens at that time.

Couple Married August 3, 1942

Mrs. McPeters was the former Myrtis Irene Richards before she met her soldier-husband-to-be in St. Johns, Newfoundland, on the very first day of his foreign service. They were married on August 3, 1942 at St. Johns, Newfoundland. Mrs. McPeters was born in Kings Point, Newfoundland, but moved to St. Johns as a child, remaining there until she came to the United States on March 29, 1944. Her first child, Yvonne, was born in Newfoundland and as Mrs. McPeters relates,

"Yvonne and I got our first taste of America by flying from St. Johns to Bangor, Me., and then a long train ride from Bangor to Knoxville to meet my husband's people, who are from Wartburg, Tenn." McPeters was in the service in Mississippi at the time of her arrival in the United States. In order to reach the United States from Newfoundland she was granted a non-quota visa because of her marriage to an American soldier. She had to be cleared by civilian and military authorities in her homeland as well as the United States before being allowed to enter on the non-quota visa.

Fire Destroyed All Belongings

After McPeters was discharged from the service, the next thing on the agenda for the fine couple was a home built near Wartburg. Mrs. McPeters stated,

"Everything was wonderful in our new home with all new furniture, new baby beds and my husband working in Y-12 when tragedy struck and fire destroyed all our belongings. Not one thing was saved."

But with the American spirit already in her system, she and her husband would not give up. They moved to Oak Ridge in September, 1945 and now are regarded as old-time Oak Ridgers. In the fire the family lost some of their most treasured possessions such as a picture of Conrad as he served on President Roosevelt's honor guard, also photographs of events in Newfoundland such as the husband being welcomed by the governor-general of Newfoundland.

Superintendent Murray Praises Prompt First Aid

Kennedy Commended For Help Given Man In Electrical Shock

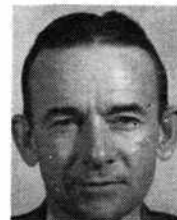

For his alertness and promptness in giving first aid treatment to a fellow employee who had become unconscious from an electric shock, possibly saving his life, John L. Kennedy, an electrician in the Y-12 Electrical Maintenance Department, has been commended in a letter from Y-12 Plant Superintendent John P. Murray. Superintendent Murray reviewed the actions of Kennedy in administering artificial respiration to R. F. Moyers, also an electrician in Electrical Maintenance, and congratulated Kennedy on behalf of "myself and all employees of the Y-12 Plant."

The act for which Kennedy received the praise of the Y-12 Superintendent occurred at 8:05 a.m. on the morning of May 5. The official report of the Safety Department on the incident follows in brief:

Rushed Up Seven Stories

"Investigation reveals that employee, R. F. Moyers, had rushed up seven stories or 14 flights of steps to the penthouse of Bldg. 9207 to assist another electrician, J. L. Kennedy, in starting an elevator which stopped between floors... Moyers was quite exhausted at the time he arrived and... as he stooped to make a check he apparently 'blacked out' and fell against a 460 volt A.C. resistor... Dandelion Posy For Dad's Day Coming Sunday

Poor, old downtrodden Dad will at last get his one-day-a-year tribute next Sunday, June 20, when Father's Day will be observed. Pop will get to stay in bed late—maybe—and perhaps he will get a raft of gifts ranging from left-over Christmas neckties— heaven forbid—to something—he hopes—will be of use to him in his activities or hobbies.

No general agreement ever has been reached as to a suitable flower to be worn in honor of

Dear Old Dad on Father's Day—although a group of Pennsylvanians have suggested the dandelion as a proper posy "because the more it's trampled on, the more it grows."

The idea of honoring Dad at least once a day seems to have occurred in different parts of the country in different years. Father's Day was observed on several different days until there was a general agreement on the third Sunday in June. The first observance was held in Spokane, Wash., in 1910.

Some other group, trying to get into the act, have designated the day before Father's Day as Expectant Father's Day. That's when the real Dads will rear back and give out with a lot of good advice to the rookies just preparing to join that great American organization of fathers.

Four Y-12 employees became fathers of babies born last week at the Oak Ridge Hospital. They were—

Paul Smith, SDA Development, boy, June 4.

Jim Bohannon, Janitors, girl, June 4.

Paul E. Trent, Product Processing, boy, June 9.

E. P. Comer, Training, girl, June 11.

In 1953, 8,600 pedestrians were killed in United States traffic accidents.

ALLEN - PHARRIS

The marriage of Miss Evelyn Pharris, of the Y-12 Insurance Office, and Lieut. David B. Allen, U.S.A., stationed at Ft. Benning, Ga., was solemnized at 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, May 29, at the First Methodist Church, Cookeville, Tenn. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. Bruce Strother, pastor of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh C. Pharris, of Cookeville, are parents of the bride. Lieutenant Allen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Allen, Dixon Springs, Tenn.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor-length gown of white tulle and Chantilly lace over satin with long petal-pointed sleeves and skirt cut in flaring tiers. She carried a white Bible centered with a white orchid and her veil was a white illusion attached to a white lace cap trimmed with rhinestones.

Miss Doris Dean, of Livingston, Tenn. and a K-25 employee, was maid of honor. She wore a floor-length gown of pink net and lace with a matching band of flowers on her head and an ornament of pink pearls, a gift from the bride.

John Howard, of Nashville, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Sam Garrett, Nashville; and W. M. Young, Dixon Springs; both cousins of Lieutenant Allen.

A reception was held at the church immediately after the ceremony, after which the couple left on a honeymoon trip to Fontana, N. C.

Huiling Cops Rodeo Honors

Ardent Angler Again Sweeps Plant Event

L. O. Huiling, of Product Processing, rapidly is becoming one of the plant's most prolific anglers and trophy collectors. In the second Y-12 Fishing Rodeo of the year that closed on June 6, Huiling took four first places out of eight classifications in the event and by so doing repeated his performance in the first Fishing Rodeo and is well on the way toward winning the plaque offered by the Y-12 Recreation Office for the best fisherman in the plant.

Brewer Closest Rival

In the second Fishing Rodeo Huiling took top honors in the smallmouth bass, sauger pike, crappie and trout classes. His closest rival for top honors was G. W. Brewer with two firsts—in largemouth bass and striped bass.

The latest Fishing Rodeo drew 117 entrants, exceeding the first one in number of tickets sold to hopeful Y-12 anglers seeking some of the fine prizes offered in each classification in the rodeo.

Close Contest for Largemouth

The closest contest in the rodeo came in the largemouth bass division. Brewer and W. G. Rains both turned in six-pounders but the lunker caught by the former was 23 inches long to 21 1/4 for Rains' prize, although the latter was a more corpulent fish with a girth of 17 inches to only 14 1/2 for Brewer's streamlined prey.

Complete results of the fishing rodeo follow:

Largemouth bass—G. W. Brewer, six pounds, length 23 inches, first. W. G. Rains, six pounds, length 21 1/4 inches, second. G. C. Ferrell, five and three-quarter pounds, third.

Bombers Lead In Plant Loop

Engineers Extend League Leaders

The Bombers held on to first place last week in the Y-12 Plant Softball League but got a terrific scare from the cellar dwelling Engineers. The Engineers were leading 10 to 6 going into the last of the seventh with hopes of pulling the biggest upset of the year but the Bombers fought back by scoring four runs in the last stanza then sewing things up in the last of the eighth frame by getting one tally. The Engineers gave a fine performance with Ernie Choat limiting the league leaders to six hits. Elmer Johnson and Bennett led the winners with two hits each while Foresman led the Engineers with three solid hits.

The Bombers also clipped the wings of the Guards by 29 to 3 in a slugfest. B. J. Stuart, hustling second baseman, led the winners by getting three base knocks, including a home run, triple and double. Gib Hatmaker pitched a seven hitter for the winners.

49ers Keep Winning

The 49ers kept on the heels of the Bombers by winning over the Engineers by 19 to 4. Louis Fitzgerald led the 49ers with five straight hits including two home runs. George Wylie also cracked out a homer for the winners.

Other league action found the Steamers dividing a pair by losing to Maintenance by 10 to 4 and winning over the Guards by 26 to 2. Ed Spradling pitched a five hitter against the Guards with Joe Hart leading the hitters with four base hits. J. H. Jones, Maintenance chunker, let the Steamers down with two hits while Roark banged out a four master for the winners.

Y-12 Cardinals Clinch First Half Title In Tough Knox-Ridge Softball Circuit

Bob Loy Hurls No Hit Game Against Watson; Birds Halve Doubleheader With Canton

Those high flying Y-12 Cardinals wrapped up the first half championship of the Knox-Ridge League last week by turning in three shutout victories behind the excellent chunking of Bobby Loy and Bill Wilburn. The Cards also split a twin bill with the Canton Champions in the neighboring North Carolina city last week-end.

The big news in the Knox-Ridge Loop was Loy's no-hitter against Watson Furniture Co. "Rapid Robert" really turned on the steam in this contest, mowing hitters down by throwing a mixture of fine pitches. "Jiggs" Seivers also turned hero in the tussle with Watson by driving in Tom Perry, who had doubled in the sixth inning, with the lone run of the game.

The Y-12 men put on a good show for the Canton folks by shutting out the home team by 3 to 0 in the opening game of the doubleheader. Loy let the Canton men down with just two hits. The Y-12ers scored the three runs in the top of the third inning on four consecutive hits by Walt Lovell, Ralph Pearson, Gene Huskisson and Seivers. Loy attempted the iron man act by twirling the second game and threw another creditable contest by giving up only six hits but lost by 4 to 1 as Canton was able to bunch their blows.

The Y-12 women edged in a game last week and ran over the American Legionettes by 21 to 6 in a loosely played game. The Robins banged out 16 hits, including home runs by Bonnie Roberts and Ella Mae Koontz. Roberts also clouted three singles to lead the hitting parade.

The hustling Cardinals exploded for two shutout wins earlier in the Knox-Ridge League by winning over the Oak Ridge National Laboratory by 8 to 0 and the Amvets by 4 to 0. In the game with ORNL, Bob Loy twirled a fine one-hitter and struck out 10 Labsters.

Gene Huskisson, Card first baseman, stroked a home run over the right field wall and also added a triple and single for a perfect night at the platter. Hudson was the losing pitcher.

Montgomery, Simmons Sluggers

Bill Wilburn came in for his share of glory by allowing the Amvets just two measly hits while striking out four in a fast game all the way. The Y-12ers pushed across one run in the second and two in the fourth canto to waltz in with another win. Kayo Montgomery and Walt Simmons led the Y-12 sluggers each getting a triple to drive in most of the runs.

BOB LOY AND BILL WILBURN, crack Card hurlers, flung a quartet of shutout victories last week to continue the fine mound work of the staff. One of Loy's wins was a no-hitter. He also blanked Canton, N. C., in one game of a Saturday twin bill.

Other action in the circuit found the Rippers taking 12 points from the Grand Slammers, Rough Riders over the Hooks also by 12, and the Chippers clipped the Fat Boys by 11 tallies.

Y-12 Tennis Group Seeks Participants

Efforts are being pushed by the Y-12 Recreation Office to form a Plant Tennis League, a Tennis Ladder within the plant or an Oak Ridge City League team. Any Y-12 employee, whether male or female, is urged to join the tennis group. All that is necessary to get start is to communicate with the Recreation Office, Bldg. 9704-2 telephone 7753.

It has been several years since a Y-12 tennis group has been active but considerable interest has been shown throughout the plant for tennis this season. An organizational meeting will be held in the near future to iron out details for operation of the league or team.

Worried by Electrical Storms

When asked about her difficulties in adjusting to the life in the United States, Mrs. McPeters replied,

"Being used to the cold climate in Newfoundland, I had some difficulty with the warm summers in the South but the thing that worried me most was the electrical storms which we have here occasionally. I never experienced or saw an electrical storm until I came to the South."

Mrs. McPeters has spent many months of time and study, plus much investigation by both civilian and military authorities, to become an American citizen. After all the preliminaries were over she made application for naturalization in August, 1953 and officially became a citizen on June 2, 1954.

American Citizenship Priceless

Mrs. McPeters says, "I love the United States. It is a wonderful place to live with opportunities for everyone. I have four fine children with an American home. It is the only country in the world with so much freedom for every individual. I wouldn't trade my American citizenship for anything in the world."

Four lovely children grace the home of the McPeters, Yvonne age 11, Linda age 10, Ronnie age 6, and Gladys age 6.

hours without a lost time mishap for the 70 days from February 26 to May 5, inclusive. That was the 10th time since Carbide took over Y-12 operations in 1947 that safety-minded employees in the Y-12 Plant Area have earned a Company citation for a Carbide Safety Period of more than 1,500,000 hours of work without a lost time accident.

Articles Being Acquired

For this 10th Carbide Safety Period, employees on the payroll during the period earned individual awards valued at $2 each, purchased in wholesale lots. The Safety and Purchasing Departments now are acquiring sample articles from which selections will be made for the awards. Divisional safety award selection committees will pick seven articles from the samples being assembled, three suitable for men employees, three for women and one for either. After the committee picks the articles, they will be displayed in the Y-12 Cafeteria and pictures of them will be published in The Bulletin. Selection cards then will be distributed in the various divisions in the plant on which the individual employees will mark their choice. The award articles will not be displayed in the divisions as in the past.

Kennedy Cut Off Power

"J. L. Kennedy smelled flesh and hair burning and immediately turned off the main power switch, and pulled the injured employee, who was unconscious, out of the congested area to the roof approximately six feet away. He then began to administer artificial respiration, calling for help at the same time. . . . A few minutes later the Fire Department First Aid representatives arrived and after the injured man was revived . . . he was taken to the Y-12 Dispensary . . . and to the Oak Ridge Hospital . . ."

Moyers, who received third degree electrical burns on the side of his head, was hospitalized for several days. After he was dismissed from the Oak Ridge Hospital he has been recuperating at home and is expected back at work this week.

Kennedy modestly referred to his action as "something anyone trained in first aid would automatically do."

"I thought he (Moyers) was gone when he fell back after the shock," said Kennedy. "He had stopped breathing and I started to work on him at once and yelled for help at the same time. It seemed a long time, but probably was not longer than 10 or 15 minutes before the ambulance arrived. By that time Moyers was breathing again but it was hard to tell if he was conscious."

Kennedy used the Schaefer method of artificial respiration, taught in the first aid training course given by the Y-12 Training Department. Kennedy, who came to work in Y-12 back in October, 1943, had taken the full 15-hour first aid course given by the Training Department in 1949 and a refresher course in 1953. After taking the course he became a member of the department emergency squad as an auxiliary fireman.

The 15-hour first aid course given by the Training Department has been taken by a considerable number of Y-12 employees and on several occasions the training has proven valuable when emergencies have arisen requiring first aid treatment for an injured employee. The course includes instruction in artificial respiration, control of bleeding, treatment of physical shock, treatment of wounds and burns, dislocations and fractures and transportation of injured persons.

First aid training now is being given all new employees in the Y-12 Plant as part of their orientation. The first aid training will be extended to other employees who have not had the instruction, or need a refresher course.

Kennedy is justly proud of the commendation and congratulations given him by Superintendent Murray, as are his wife and two sons. The Kennedys live at 108 Disston Road, Oak Ridge. He is vacationing this week in his home state of Texas.
